I have to take a star away for the quick drain on the AA batteries. In one way its nice not to have to remember to always be recharging the batteries and bringing the charger, but the AA batteries didnt hold up to a lot of photos and videos so they were swapped frequently. And this is likely the only review that teams a Samsung camera with a reference to Marvin Lee Aday. My last camera, a Canon A70, was ruined by the constant banging around, even in its case. This Samsung is by no means as good as the Canon, but its a very good little camera for the price. The resolution is excellent when in bright light. Beach photos were beautiful when the subjects were in the sun. When in the shade of an umbrella, they were a little too dark, even when the focus boxes on the viewfinder showed it should have been metering for the shade. But I was able to lighten them with Corel Photo Pro. Photos of water splashes were caught in mid air and in focus, not blurred. There is a lag time between when you press the button and when the photo is taken, even after youve pressed halfway to focus. Much slower than my Canon. That lag time is my main complaint with this camera. Outdoor, its not too much of a problem. But I had a heck of a time photographing my granddaughter on an indoor carousel. I had to take the photo about 2 seconds before she would be in front of me. It was a real guessing game. But this camera is so inexpensive, I cant fault it too much. I will buy something better when Im not going to be subjecting it to rough handling. But Im glade I did wait. Now I can me 100% sure of my rating. Dont wait if your thinking about buying this, just buy it. And buy it from these guys. Came like 7 days BEFORE the delivery day, and the unit works great. Id get the biggest card like a 24 gb to take your photos with and invest in 4 rechargeable batteries and the recharge unit, because they go quick.

I know nothing about taking pictures, and you dont need to know a thing with this unit, because it does it all for you!!!! VERY HAPPY AND BUY THIS IF YOUR NOT SURE, JUST DO IT.I started to shake in my boots a bit when I saw the bad reviews AFTER i had ordered the product and what concerned me the most was the fact that the bad reviews of the product were all made in the recent months while the best comments were made last year all around the same time. It made me wonder if the camera was on sale only to get rid of the set of cameras that were known to be botched products. My worst fear was the problems that were reported in regards to the lens not shutting. I can say happily that I have had no problems with that at all. The camera is the perfect weight and size and I was impressed with the images that were taken. I have issues with my images coming out blurry a lot of the times but i think I just need to practice some more. Overall I feel it is a great productPurchased a pink one for her 11 year old sister as well with 2Gb cards too. They love the video function of the camera. Wasnt long they were making home videos and playing them back for everyone. It takes 2 AA batteries which seem to last pretty long. The delay time from picture to picture is a little longer than I would like but it seems okay for them. Also the picture delay from when you press the button to the actual picture taken is okay, could be a little faster too. The image stabilization seems good given the skill of the kids. Would highly recommend this camera for a great entry level digital camera.It was perfect! After 2 weeks of mountains and prairies, scenic overlooks and family visits, I plugged my camera into the computer and uploaded nearly 200 amazing pictures. It works well both inside and out, in bright sun or overcast. Its small enough to carry in a purse or pocket, and so far appears pretty durable. Even my kids were able to take pictures without cutting off the peoples heads.It was perfect.

Very compact but takes clear pictures that can be easily printed. The instructions are very easy to understand. It did not take her long to be snapping pictures. This was important since she got the camera 2 days before her trip. She did not have a lot of time to play with the camera and get to know it. She needed to point and shoot but it also has some great capabilities. She enjoyed the video capability. It is a great camera for the price.
