

Vocational & English Language Training

The Vocational English Language Training Program offers English language classes, one-on-one and group tutoring, job readiness, digital literacy, and transition counseling to English language learners, including refugees and immigrants. The program also offers vocational training in areas such as: Hospitality, Food Service, Information Technology, Childcare and Medical Interpreting. Acknowledging the ever-changing demographics of its participants, curricula are frequently updated to meet current needs.

Languages: We access interpretation services for all languages.
